DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of species II, claims 1-48 in the reply filed on 9/24/2007 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims of species I and II are not mutually exclusive.

This is not found persuasive because figure 2 does not represent the limitation of distorting content on top of which the frame portion is rendered. Figure 2 describes to resize the frame mesh in step 215, but nowhere does it suggest rendering the frame portion on top of the distorted content. Figure 5 does not represent the limitation of receiving application content information originating from an instance of a legacy application program, stripping out application content from the legacy window content, and converting the application content to a graphical representation of the application content. Thus, figure 2 and figure 5 represent mutually exclusive species.

Again the species of figure 2 is not generic because figure 2 does not represent the limitation of translucent frame portion of the window that comprises a frosted glass as claimed in claim 4. However, figure 5 as described on page 6 paragraph [22] of the specification, represents the rendered frosted glass framed window.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

2. This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

- I. Species of Fig. 5, which is distorting content on top of which rendering of the window having a frame portion with specific properties.
 - II. Species of Fig. 2, which is a method for performing desktop window compositing.
3. The species are independent or distinct because claims to the different species recite the mutually exclusive characteristics of such species. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.
4. There is an examination and search burden for these patentably distinct species due to their mutually exclusive characteristics. The species require a different field of search (e.g., searching different classes/subclasses or electronic resources, or employing different search queries); and/or the prior art applicable to one species would not likely be applicable to another species; and/or the species are likely to raise different non-prior art issues under 35 U.S.C. 101 and/or 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph.
5. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 1 and 21 are generic.
6. Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

7. Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species.

MPEP § 809.02(a).

8. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

9. The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

10. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

11. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
